Dear parents,
Winter is approaching with its silent steps when you go on a morning walk you can notice the shiny smiling dewes on the grass bed. It reminds of new hopes and aspirations. We are also advancing towards the annual CHSE Examination with an unflagging intent to repeat our past accomplishments in a grand way and set new milestones. The recently concluded festival of Lights, Deepawali is a celebration of victory of the forces of the good over the evil. Hope we all get blessed to surmount the dark and negative forces in us and embrace everything i.e. positive for a sparkling and glistening future echoing our success, achievement and accomplishments.
